“ONCE YOU’VE WRESTLED, EVERYTHING ELSE IN LIFE IS EASY.” —DAN GABLE

Dear Wildcat Wrestlers—

To say that the Louisburg wrestling program is on the cusp of accomplishing great things would be a misleading statement. We have already begun accomplishing great things. The future of the program holds nothing but promise, and it is due to the dedication, sacrifice, and resilience of the wrestlers who have committed to the program.

If you look at a season, judging it solely by the number of state qualifiers or placers, you miss so much of what the young men have achieved. Our varsity squad finished the season with several team honors from various tournaments, our first winning dual season since 2009, and close to twice as many individual wins as we had last season. Our final roster included 38 wrestlers, which shows the amount of dedication to the program the boys have, and we are only graduating two seniors.

This season has given me many great memories and it has only bolstered my enthusiasm for the Louisburg wrestling program. When you look at all the growth we've made, it's not difficult to see why.

To our two seniors, thank you for everything you've done for Louisburg wrestling. I've only had three years to get to know you, but you both will be greatly missed. You've led the team in warm-ups, in competitions, in the classrooms, in the halls, and in the community. Over the past four years, you've amassed 78 wins and 32 pins at both the varsity and junior varsity levels. Although there are only two of you, you have established yourselves as dedicated contributors to the future of this program, and I thank you for all you've done.

To the underclassmen, you are closer than you realize to turning the corner. All you have to do is open your eyes and see where you're at now, look at where you're heading, and focus on the path necessary to get there. Steve Cooper, a contributing writer for Forbes magazine, once wrote, "The biggest lesson I learned during my wrestling career was humility... getting knocked down was just part of the process to work even harder." By the way, Cooper is the same man who wrote the Forbes article entitled "Why Wrestlers Make the Best Employees." Through the sport of wrestling, whether you've accomplished your goals for the season or not, you have definitely prepared yourselves for life in the real world better than any other path could have done. See it through to the end. Your destination may change along the way, but the journey will be one you'll remember the rest of your lives.

To the managers and parents, thank you for your never-ending support. Whether it was mopping mats, taking care of inventory, doing laundry, preparing meals, or simply cheering on the team, you've been one of the most important factors in our success. We have certainly appreciated every weekend that you sacrificed to support the Wildcats.

Where do we go from here? What are our options to ensure that next season is just as full of successes? It's an investment whose yields are not going to be immediately obvious. What are you willing to do? Freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling, the Outdoors Challenge Camp in July, open mat workouts all summer, the Sunflower State Games, the Cadet / Junior National Tournament in Fargo, and all the various summer college camps are all options for you. Pick several of these that you can commit to. Chip in your own contribution to next year's success. What you do in the off-season determines what you do in the regular season.

I feel very blessed to have the opportunity to work with such a great community, and I couldn't ask for a better wrestling family than the Louisburg wrestling program! Thank you all for having faith in me as your coach.

Wildcat Proud!

*"More enduringly than any other sport, wrestling teaches self-control and pride.
Some have wrestled without great skill—none have wrestled without pride."*
